

The School Fair

Characters

Jake
Robbie
Kate
Mandy
Harry, Jake's friend
Other children
Teacher
Head teacher

Scene 1

In Mandy and Jake's garden

It's Saturday afternoon and Kate and Mandy are sitting on the grass in the garden when Jake and Robbie arrive. Robbie is eating a banana.

- Jake: Hi, girls. We're going to the fair at my school this afternoon. It starts in an hour. Do you want to come?
- Robbie: The money from the fair is going to help wild animals in danger. You must come!
- Kate: Yes, OK. Let's go. Robbie, how many bananas have you eaten today?
- Robbie: Err ... about four, I think.
- Mandy: (LAUGHING) One day you'll look in the mirror and you'll see a monkey!
- Robbie: But I like bananas ...

Scene 2

The children arrive at the school fair.

- Jake: Wow, there are lots of people here! We'll collect lots of money for the animals.
- Kate: Yes, and there are lots of games and competitions. Who wants to buy a raffle ticket? There are some great prizes!
- Jake: The first prize is a digital camera!
- Mandy: Great! Let's buy some tickets. Why don't we get three each?
- Robbie: OK. How much are they?
- Teacher: The tickets are £2 each.
- All: Here you are.
- Teacher: Thanks. We'll pick the winning tickets at 5 o'clock, so come back then!
- Mandy: OK, thanks. What can we do next?

Robbie: Let's have a go at this game! What do we have to do?

Head teacher: You have to eat the apples without using your hands. Ten people do it together and the first person who finishes wins a prize.

Jake: And what's the prize?

Head teacher: A basket of fruit.

Robbie: Oh, great! There are lots of bananas in it. Let's play! How much is it?

Head teacher: Only £1 each.

They all pay the money and six other children play with them. They start eating the apples and Jake's friend Harry wins.

Harry: I'm the winner! Hurray! I can give the fruit to my grandma.

Robbie: Can I have a banana?

Harry: What will you give me for it?

Robbie: I haven't got any more money. I know! What about a raffle ticket?

Harry: OK. I didn't have enough money for a raffle ticket. Here's your banana.

Robbie: Thanks, here's your ticket. Right, what can we do now?

Kate: Mandy and I want to buy some cakes. Can we meet here at five o'clock for the raffle?

Jake: OK. Come on, Robbie, let's walk around for a while.

Scene 3

It's five o'clock, and everyone wants to know who has won the prizes in the raffle.

Teacher: Now it's time for the raffle! The first number, for third prize, is 134.

Mandy: That's my ticket!

Teacher: Congratulations! You win a watch! And the second prize goes to number 86.

Girl: That's mine!

Teacher: Here you are. You win some roller skates! And the first prize goes to ... number 129!

Harry: Hey, that's my ticket! I can't believe it! I've won a digital camera.

Robbie: Oh, no! I gave that ticket to Harry!

Kate: Ha, ha! You got a banana instead of a camera! Maybe you won't be so greedy next time, Robbie!

Mandy: Never mind, Robbie. I'm sure they've collected lots of money for the animals!